Wirecard's Commission Payment Card programme enables companies to pay commissions. With the Wirecard Payout Enterprise Portal, individual amounts can be charged to credit cards. Cardholders can spend their money wherever MasterCard is accepted. The design of the card and the portal can be customised based on company requirements.

Commission payments are often used to motivate employees and reward individual performance. In certain professions, such as sales, they sum up to a core part of employees' salaries. These days, many companies need to make commission payments, for example, to people working around the world without a local bank account. Cash is not an option and wire transfers may be impractical.

This is where the new Wirecard Commission Payment Card programme comes into play: it provides companies with a simple and secure way to distribute commissions anytime and anywhere.

HOW IT WORKS

Corporations in the SEPA region open and fund a corporate bank account with Wirecard Bank AG. Through the Wirecard Payout Enterprise Portal (WEP). They then create the required number of credit cards, distribute the cards to the recipient of a commission and load the individual payment amount on the cards in real time. Cardholders can use their credit card at any POS, ATM, or e-commerce shop that accepts MasterCard and track their spending through the Wirecard Account Management Portal.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS

- ▶ Security is ensured at every step: cards are either sent to the company via bulk mail or sent individually to recipients and they can only be used after the cardholder has accessed and activated the card in the online portal. Spending is limited to the amount available, thanks to prepaid technology.
- ▶ Wirecard's Commission Payment Card programme also delivers a high degree of flexibility. Everything from the card design and carrier letter to the admin and user portals can be customised with the corporation's own branding. The offering is also available in a standard neutral design.
- ▶ Furthermore, the programme supports various currencies, so commissions can be paid in the cardholder's currency of choice regardless of the cardholder's location.
- ▶ With the new Wirecard Commission Payment Card, corporations not only benefit from the ease and speed of paying commissions via credit card, they also enjoy the benefits of working with a leading provider of electronic payments and banking with a fully licensed German bank – all with a fully licensed German bank – all within the Wirecard Group.
- ▶ The Wirecard call centre with locking hotline and 24-hour service is available in the case of any questions.
